

DANUBE HAZARD

Preparatory project for “Fighting hazardous substances pollution in the Danube River Basin”

The project DANUBE HAZARD tackles the problem of hazardous substances pollution of the Danube river basin.

For this preparatory project, an international partnership of research, administration and management institutions will be set up. DANUBE HAZARD relies on a survey of existing data and data gaps and a study of monitoring strategies for the development of a concept for the future project.

PA04

LP: Karlsruher Institut für
Technologie / Karlsruhe
Institute of Technology (KIT)

GERMANY

Contact Person:

Stephan Fuchs

Matthias Zessner, PP1 (present)